CERAMIDS AND CHOLESTEROL 0.05%	Ceramides and cholesterol are lipid substances, main constituents of the lipid barrier. From the chemical point of view the ceramides are formed by a sphingoid base (sphingosine or phyto-sphingosine) bound to a fatty acid by amide bond. Ceramides and cholesterol are found naturally in cell membranes and are also one of the main components of the stratum corneum, where they occupy the interstitial spaces between the cells cementing them together and helping to keep the skin barrier intact.
OLIVE OIL ESTERS 1.5%	Emollient and moisturizing action gives the product a silky and velvety texture.
BISABOLOL 0.05%	Bisabolol is a natural extract of chamomile that has calming properties on redness, therefore useful as a soothing agent for irritated skin.
BETAGLUCAN 0.01%	Glucose polysaccharide which, in addition to its moisturizing properties, also performs a protective action on the skin, stimulating tissue regeneration and the natural defenses of the skin.
ALLANTOIN 0.2%	It exerts a moisturizing, anti-reddening and re-epithelising effect.
PANTHENOL 0.5%	Derived from Vitamin B5, it has a marked moisturizing, emollient and soothing action, therefore particularly suitable for reducing erythema and dermatitis.
